Past continuous

I was reading a book last night.

Yesterday and today

1. Read these texts, find all the verbs:

Yesterday:

- Yesterday was a very busy day! In the morning I was studying at school and after that my friends came over to my house and we were playing PC games for two hours. At 5 o'clock my friends left and my mother was just cooking dinner. We ate our dinner and then I was reading a newspaper.

Today:

- Today is a very busy day, too. Right now, I am reading today's newspaper and I am also travelling to Prague to see my grandmother. At the moment, she is just cooking lunch for me and my parents. I am really looking forward to seeing her! My grandmother is a really nice person.

Introduction

1. Compare these two situations. What is the difference?:

Yesterday evening:

- I was reading a newspaper yesterday evening.

Right now:

- I am reading a newspaper right now.

The form of positive sentences

- The form of the tense is very similar to the present continuous tense. The only difference is that we don't use the present form of the verb to be (am, is, are) but the past form-> was / were

Subject + was / were + -ing + objects, adverbs

I was watching TV last night.
They were playing football yesterday at 5.

Positive and negative sentences

3. Form sentences using the cues:

example: He / sleep / whole afternoon yesterday:

He was sleeping the whole afternoon yesterday.

- My friend / do / his homework / last night
- Your father / cook / lunch / yesterday at noon
- We / have dinner / at seven o'clock / on Saturday
- I / watch / TV / yesterday evening
- John / play hockey / on Friday / at 5 pm
- They / hide / their food / from their dog / yesterday
- Sarah / dance / in the street / last week
